Why Support?

The Ark of Safety Community Resiliency Summit comes at a critical moment for the Inland Empire, one of California's most disaster-prone regions. Social and economic inequities only heighten these risks. This summit brings leaders together to continue the movement for whole-community resilience.

By sponsoring, you are investing in sustainable, long-term solutions, advancing action plans, strengthening cross-sector partnerships, and supporting the launch of the Inland Equity Grid (IEG). Developed by Building Resilient Communities and the Public Health Alliance of Southern California, with funding from Title Sponsor California Air Resources Board (CARB), the IEG is an innovative tool that integrates climate, health, and equity data to drive smarter, more equitable disaster preparedness and recovery.

Why Your Support Matters

- Catalyze Change: Launch action plans and partnerships that strengthen resilience beyond the event.
- Advance Equity: Address disparities in disaster preparedness and recovery.
- Strengthen Partnerships: Unite nonprofits, government, businesses, and residents.
- Elevate Innovation: Expand the IEG statewide to transform collaboration and decision-making.
- Be Recognized: Showcase leadership as a champion of community resilience.

A Call to Action

The Ark of Safety Summit is more than an event, it's the launchpad of a movement. By sponsoring, you help ensure preparation, equity, and collaboration become the foundation of a safer, more resilient Inland Empire, today and for generations to come.
